Spacecom... Magio Moves Onto AMOS-3

Spacecom (Tel Aviv Stock Exchange: SCC), the operator of the AMOS satellite fleet, has revealed that Slovak Telekom's Magio TV has launched its satellite TV service on the AMOS-3

satellite. Magio TV,

under the T-Com brand, is the third European DTH (Direct-to-Home) service, and fourth overall, delivering content via the AMOS satellite constellation, located at Spacecom's 4 degrees West prime orbital position. Slovak Telekom is a subsidiary of the global Deutsche Telekom group. Magio TV, which complements Slovak Telekom's IPTV and broadband Internet offerings, is now available to all of Slovakia as a stand-alone digital TV service or as part of the incumbent telecom's other services. It joins fellow DTH services Hungary's T-Home SatTV, Romania's BOOM and Israel's YES on Spacecom's AMOS constellation.
